First Meeting of

1917 Town Council

The first meeting of the new town council for the Town of Blairmore was held on Tuesday night, when Mayor, Beebe and Councillors McVey and Christophers were duly sworn in, to with Councillors Evans, Lagace, Rosse and Dutil undertake to administer the affairs of the municipality for the fiscal year.

The minutes of last meeting of the old council were approved and the following slate of committees was on motion approved:

WORKS AND PROPERTY—O. Lagace, W. McVey, M. Rosse.

WATERWORKS—W. McVey, L. Dutil, W. Evans.

LICENSE AND POLICE—M. Rosse, P. M. Christophers, W. Evans.

HEALTH AND RELIEF—W. Evans, P. M. Christophers, O. Lagace.

FIRE AND LIGHT—P. M. Christophers, O. Lagace, L. Dutil.

FINANCE—L. Dutil, O. Lagace, W. McVey.

Rosse Dutil—That the Union Bank of Canada be requested to accept the signature of W. A. Beebe as mayor of the town for the year 1917. Carried.

Dutil-McVey—That Michel Rosse be appointed deputy-mayor for January, February and March, 1917. Carried.

The question of finances came up for a little discussion. It was stated that the town needed the sum of about $18,000 to carry it over till the end of July next, and the finance committee was asked to devise ways and means to raise the same.

On motion, it was decided that regular meetings should be held on the second and fourth Thursdays during 1917, and that the first regular meeting be held on Thursday night next, at 8 o'clock.

The Professor's Bulletin

No. 1. The undersigned has ventured to embark upon the troubled sea of newspaperdom, and, owing to the courtesy of Skipper Bartlett, the voyage is to be made in the good ship "Enterprise."

During the cruise the Professor will amuse himself by publishing on the bulletin board certain mistakes which are commonly made in the speaking and writing of the English language.

Conditional upon the Professor's immunity from seasickness, the bulletin will appear regularly, week by week. There may sometimes be occasion to move the bulletin board from one deck to another (or, as a newspaper editor would say, from one page to another); but somewhere or other the passengers will find the bulletin; and at each issue it will contain at least one "bull."

This week, the Professor heavily undercores the timeworn expression "GENERALLY ALWAYS."

Now, please do not say or write that again. You see, the expression results from confusion of thought. First be clear in your own mind, as to whether the fact which you want to state is "always" the case, or is only "generally" the case; and then, express yourself accordingly. That is to say, use either one word or the other, but not both.

"THE PROFESSOR."

What a German-American Woman Saw in Germany

She fared well at public hotels and did not find the charges exorbitant, although prices for food have advanced considerably. She has been able to get quotations. The writer goes into much detail to support her statements. Her first letter is convincing, especially as it is based on information received from other well-informed persons. Altogether it may fairly be doubted if any man could have written this mission. She has enormous resources and the Allies must win the war on the field of battle. The imperative is to get the war machine going. No man who can get away to place himself at the service of civilization can be too busy. The writer has seen the many in men, to the higher classes of human beings. Only by fresh sacrifices at home and abroad can we win the war. The writer is a lasting tribute for the free nation over brutal militarism.

A pert young miss said to old Gobsa Golde's heiress, the aging Lotta:

"Your fiance, darling, is going around telling everybody that you're worth your weight in gold."

"The foolish boy," said the heiress, blushing for pleasure. "Who does he tell it to, do you know?"

"Why," said the other girl, "to all his transformations of course!"

"Why," said the other girl, "to all his creditors, of course!"—Washington

There is, however, a subtle difference between the Lake Winnipeg and Manitoba Martens. Along certain streams, the Souris Marten is more numerous than the others, and remains, constructs its home. This animal for some years of the future is under stringent protection, and the contractors are forbidden to cut the timber of the wildest localities roamed by the lynx. The wild cat is now present in the country, and the marten grows. The marten is likewise stranger to the haunts of man, inasmuch as the wolverine, known to the waterways do not contain the muskrat; the fisher's abode is within the range of the marten, and in northern latitudes the marten makes its lair. The chamois or brown bear is an occasional prey of the marten, and the marten; the late James Cunningham, Somerset, who as a young man dwelt

The Laziest Shepherd
A century and more ago a pamphlet entitled, "The Shepherds of Salisbury Plain," set forth their notorious misdeeds. One of the gentlemen offered a prize of a guinea to the laziest of a pluming breed. Some started up to claim the prize, which was won by the shepherd who merely murmured an invitation to shove it into his pocket.—London Globe.

Looking Ahead
Mr. Robbins came home well pleased with his achievement at the employment agency.
"I engaged two cooks today," he said.
"Why two?" said his wife. "We need only one."

Understand, the sailors said, "If you were a hundred miles east of where Nansen began his drift," said Captain Amundsen at the Chicago club, "I believe I would have a strong chance of finding him and would be well on my way to the Pole. Nansen went into the pack too far west. He drifted to 80 degrees and then made his fateful dash to 82 degrees, I believe. He floated clear of the ice in the North Atlantic, between Spitzbergen and Greenland. By starting my drift farther and further west, I believe I will reach the latitude, I believe I will reach 88 degrees at least, and possibly 89. If I achieve the former latitude, I will be within 120 miles of the Pole. I expect to reach the latter latitude in a drift of one and a half or two years. In that time I will have drifted half across the Polar pack which is 1,800 to 2,000 mile wide."

Captain Amundsen's new ship, he said, was a 200-ton vessel, built of oak timbers, with sides three feet thick and heavier about bows and stern. At the mouth of the Yel- lowstone in the fall there are 50 dogs, a new supply of oil, fresh meat, eggs, butter and potatoes from the farm lands about Krasnoyarsk. The ship is loaded with provisions, equipped with wireless telegraphy and exploring parties may keep in touch with the ship. The Aero Club of America will supply the airplane and a pilot.

Captain Robert Scott. The gallant Englishman arrived at the Pole Jan. 7, 1912, found Amundsen's victorious flag planted there, and, heartbroken, turned back for the sea. With his provisions exhausted, he perished in a blizzard only a few days' journey from his ship.

The threshing with no additional expense, and many thousands of bushels of such seeds are deposited under the separators in each year. The straw is then taken to the straw pile in order that they may be destroyed by the burning of the straw, rather than to preserve them for feeding. The grain is then returned to the soil in a fertile condition to the soil.

"With a proper kind of fanmill it is possible to clean wheat at the rate of a bushel a minute by hand and it is possible to clean wheat at the rate of a bushel a minute by machine. The fanmill would pay for itself over and over again on the western farms if all the grain were run through it before being taken to market."

He had no doubt but that the C.P.R. and the other line would raise a hell of a racket to handle this trade if there was any considerable demand for it. The statement made by a grain dealer in Winnipeg, which reference was made to the other screenings were being diverted to the American channels to the detriment of the farmers of the West. It was his opinion that the screenings of these screenings should be confiscated and a small plant put into operation to convert them into meal to be sold to the farmers. His opinion was expressed that in view of the fact that cars were brought cause great losses in their own cellars. It seems, however, the general practice is to store the potatoes in the crop immediately and shift the losses from rot from the farmer to the consumer. The farmer can get a good price for the price of good potatoes.

In some instances, no doubt, the consumer is to blame by storing potatoes in warm cellars. Potatoes and similar vegetables must be stored in a cool, dry place, free from frost, which causes a sweetish taste in potatoes; but the temperature should never rise above 50 degrees. If the temperature is too high, it is better not to try to store the potatoes, as losses are sure to be great.

Farmers are cautioned that the attitude of consumers will eventually result in demanding grading of potatoes. The farmer who does not control diseases in his

To All Frenchmen Born in 1808

The Consular Agent for France in Alberta is advising all Frenchmen born in 1808, and those who have been omitted in the previous years, to claim without delay the registration of their names with the French Government, regarding the class 1918; for this purpose they will have to communicate immediately with the French Consular Agent, Calgary.

Notes From Alberta Col- lege, North Edmonton Alberta.

The term which has just closed has been the most successful in the history of the College. The registration is 690, being an increase of approximately 300 over that of a corresponding period last year. This increase has necessitated the engagement of extra teachers to handle the work. For the winter term, beginning January 3rd, there will be a staff of thirty teachers.

The results have been very gratifying in the Commercial Department. During the past year the College has filed over one hundred and fifty positions for competent students and graduates. To increase the efficiency of this department the College is installing eighteen new Remington and Underwood Typewriting machines. A thorough knowledge of business has been added to the equipment and all students registered in the Commercial Department will receive free instruction in the operation of this machine, which is used so much in the business world of the city and province. The large increase in number of students is a tribute to the splendid character of the work done.

The Telegraphy Department is equipped with the same standard instruments as are used on the great railway lines and in the commercial offices. This telegraph course is becoming more and more popular. There is a constant demand for good operators. This department is operator.

In the Academic Department the College gives instruction in Public and High School work up to and including Grade X and the Matriculation Subjects necessary for the Primary Examination of the Chartered Accountants' Association of Alberta. All the Academic work is given in the night classes and in addition the complete Matriculation course is taught under the direction of the principal and four University graduates.

Much attention is given to backward students and to those who have not had the advantages of an early education.
The classes are so arranged that diligent students can make two or more grades in one year. Special classes are taught for non-English speaking students where special emphasis is laid upon all the English subjects. These were attended by upwards of sixty students last year.

The College has the largest Music Conservatory in Western Canada. Complete courses are given in Piano, Organ, Voice, Theory, Harmony, Violin, Mandolin, etc.
Pupils are prepared for the examination of the Toronto Conservatory and the Associated Boards of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music London, England.

The Expression Department is under the direction of Mrs. Irene Burak, A.T.
C.M., one of Canada's leading interpreters of Shakespearean drama. In connection with the college a dramatic society has been organized under the distinguished patronage of Sir John MacFarlane Robertson. This society is the beginning of earnest study and appreciation of the drama. The college is fortunate in having at the head of its department of expression an artist whose work has been recognized by the leading actors of the British Empire.

The College residences are under the direct supervision of the principal, lady principal and resident dean. Everything is done to surround the students during college life with positive Christian influences and to keep before each student distinctly Christian ideals.

Alberta College North makes a wide appeal because of its efforts to develop Christian citizenship, to assist those whose early education has been arrested and those who have not had the advantages of an early preparatory training.
There are no requirements as to age, educational standing, creed or nationality to enter the college, and each student is made to feel that he has a place on an equality with every other.

The Trail amateur employees are giving $1,000 per month to the Patriotic Fund.

The Benefit of Good Example

The benefit of good example was illustrated the other day at Fischer Creek when two Treaty Indians, Neil Yellow the sum of $20 as a contribution to These two men had seen in the papers that another Indian, Big Sean, had not to outdone in their generosity, so they came with similar amounts. If the white people of Southern Alberta contribute the same way, the Patriotic Fund will be subscribed several times over.

The following amounts were received
